

A photograph of a muddy construction site. In the foreground, there is a large area of brown, wet mud with some puddles. In the middle ground, a white mobile office building with several windows is situated on a grassy hillside. To the right of the building, there is a rocky embankment. In the background, there are several tall pine trees and a clear blue sky with some clouds. A red text overlay is in the bottom left corner, and a date/time stamp is in the bottom right corner.
