Subject: RE: Water Transfer COA

Alex:

Attached please find a much improved Map of the lines used in the transfer to Berry.

Also, our timeline for closure of the EF D19 595 is tentatively scheduled for May 2013. This date depends on water balance and funding. I will keep you posted on our progress.

Thanks,

Maximum Allowable Operating Pressure – sorry about that.
I will see if I can get someone to get me a legend, but I would imagine they are for different diameters.

Heather-Thanks.

- What does MAOP stand for?
- Are the different color of lines on the map pipelines of different diameter or used to transport different media? A description or legend would be helpful.
- I am interpreting that the delivery of fluids will continue until June 30, 2013.
