Subject: A22W Alleged Spill and Complain (200350969)

Linda:

On the morning of February 28, 2012 Encana's Environmental On-Call phone received an anonymous report of a 1000 barrel produced water spill on Encana's A22W well pad (COGCC Location - 334755). The anonymous caller stated that he had personally witnessed the spill while working as a completions contractor in the winter of 2011. He asserted that Encana was actively covering up this and other spills.

In response to the alleged spill, Encana's Parachute Environmental Department completed the following:

- A records search for reported spills on this location,
- interviews of appropriate Completions Department personnel, and
- a site investigation conducted by a 3rd party environmental consultant.

None of these efforts found any evidence of a large scale produced water spill on this location during the time frame the caller identified.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact me.
