

A photograph of a disassembled PC pump and unused pipe in a field. The scene is outdoors, with a dirt path in the foreground and a line of trees in the background. A large pile of rusty, unused pipes lies on the ground. To the left, a small white electrical box is mounted on a post. In the center, a disassembled PC pump is visible, with its components scattered on the ground. A tall, thin antenna or mast stands behind the pump. The sky is overcast with grey clouds. The text "disassembled PC pump and unused pipe" is overlaid in red in the center of the image.
