Mr. Veach: As you are aware, I had serious computer issues today, Friday, June 21, 2013. At app. 3:00 p.m. the issues were finally resolved. I have briefly looked through my files and have not found our earlier messages wherein you made a proposal of settlement. I will look further for the messages from you. However, would you re-send the message wherein you set forth your proposal? I want to be certain that I have a copy of the proposal.

I do want you to be aware that Monument is prepared and able to come on your premises to perform any clean-up activities, under the supervision of a company approved by the State Oil and Gas Representative, which are necessary due to previous spills from the transmission lines which traverse property in which you have as interest as a partnership officer.

Again, I will be reviewing the contents of various internet files to insure that I have copies of our previous communications.

Sincerely,

/s/

Don Freemyer
