

Entek GRB LLC (Entek) has implemented an internal plan to assure the COGCC that berms will be installed at the Moffat 26-12-89 SWD 1 prior to it being put back into service. The tank battery is currently not in service due to low oil and gas pricing. Entek certifies that all tanks associated with this facility are currently empty. Locks and tags have been put on all inlets and outlets to the tank facility and the photos of this operation are attached. Each tank has not been individually locked from one another since the facility inlet and outlet have been locked. Once this facility has economic feasibility to re-instate service, Entek commits to the COGCC that appropriate berming will be installed around the entire facility before these tanks are put in service. The tags on the locks will read that this facility shall not be put into service and locks shall not be removed until appropriate berming is completed for the facility to meet the COGCC rulings.

Please see the accompanied pictures that show the entrance, exit and verbiage on the tags.
