All,

Please see corrected release location information below. I mistakenly reported a nearby wellhead. The location listed below will be the location reported in the forthcoming Form 19 Initial Release Report. I apologize for any confusion. Thank you,

Good Evening,

We had a State Reportable Release at the location listed below. Laboratory analytical results received on September 2, 2015 indicate that shallow groundwater exceeded CGWQS standards. The release was initiated by a casing leak near a flange head on the wellhead. Excavation/remediation activities are currently under way. More information will be provided in a forthcoming Form 19 Initial Release Report. Please let me know if you have any questions. Thank you,
