Re: Colorado Parks and Wildlife – Onsite
Wells Permitted on Greenleaf Environmental Owned Surface

To whom it may concern:

The Colorado Oil and Gas Conservation Commission (COGCC) has specific guidelines and procedures regarding onsites and consultations prior to permit approvals. It is my understanding that Greenleaf Environmental Services, as the surface owner, has the right to waive or disallow the Colorado Parks and Wildlife (CPW) to be involved during the onsite process or to place and Conditions of Approval (COA) or BMP's on the applicant's permit.

It is my desire to waive and/or not allow the CPW to conduct an onsite or place COA's/BMP's on well sites located on my surface property. Your understanding in this matter is greatly appreciated.

Very Truly Yours,

Jake McNair
