Cheryl,
COGCC is in the process of reviewing the Form 2A for ACCO TERRA STATE doc no 401132488. On the Facility Layout Drawing, there is a pump jack and an oil tank. On the Facilities list on the 2A, a pump jack is not listed, and a condensate tank instead of an oil tank is listed. Please let me know what should be on the Facilities list or send a corrected Facility Layout Drawing.

For noise mitigation, please let me know if there are any concerns or mitigation measures for the building units to the west and north.

I will be out of town from 11/30 to 12/6. Please contact John Noto or Doug Andrews if you have questions while I am out.

Thank you,
Rebecca

There will not be a pump jack on this location as it is a vertical well. I have updated the facility drawing and changed the name from oil to cond on the tank. This battery will be like the one we permitted on the Folley Pad.

The only building unit that falls in the 1000' buffer zone has been abandoned for three years and was confirmed by the adjacent surface owner. This will also be a quick drill as it is a vertical drill and should only take 2 days. No additional mitigation measures have been addressed. Before the location is build our stakeholder relations group will visit the area and if it is determined any additional measures are needed they will be added at that time.
