Detailed description of the issue or issues.	, Strong petroleum odor present at 6:20am this morning when I took my dog outside. (Note: lately, I am noticing the odor more in the early morning, around 6am. I first go out with my dog between 5-5:15am, and I do not notice the odor at that time. But when I go back out at 6 or today 6:20, I am noticing the odor. The last couple of evenings I have not noticed the odor -- but there have been storms blowing through and the wind seems to come from the west. I live south west of the drilling site, so with the wind direction the last couple of evenings, I am not smelling anything).
