Photo 6: Photo taken from the northwest corner of the location, facing east. Note: there appears to be areas leading from the anchors towards the well ~5-6 feet in width where vegetation does not appear to be uniform. This is a common occurrence observed on multiple CM Production locations in the area.

Photo 14: Photo taken from a drainage to the immediate east of the well. Photo shows drainage has become inundated with Canada thistle. Though inspector was unable to observe the noxious weed on location, due to the proximity of the weeds, it possible that thistle does exist on site.
