(DETAILS OF WORK)

J. Knifton "A" #4 was completed during September, 1954 for a flowing gauge of 790 barrels of oil, no water, and 297 MCF of gas from the Dakota open hole 4795 (-690) to 4818 (-713) feet. Water appeared during October, 1954 and well was placed on pump. Production declined rapidly and during October, 1956 the well was producing at a rate of 6 barrels of oil and 200 barrels of water per day. Attempts have been made to shut off water and increase production with no results. A 14 hour pumping production test on April 15, 1959 yielded 102 barrels of water, no oil, and 21 MCF gas.

Based on the above experience, we propose to plug and abandon J. Knifton "A" #4.
