Hi Alex,

We attempted to remove the accumulated fluids at the land treatment area yesterday however, due to the conditions of the access road the vac truck was not able to be positioned to remove all the liquids. A bulk of the liquids were able to be removed but the area will need to dry out so the vac truck can get close enough to the containment berm to remove what is left.

Additional notification will be provided if access continues to cause delay to address the accumulated fluids and required corrective actions at the land treatment area.

Regards,

Max
