Re: County Regulation of Oil & Gas Activities
Jackson County, Colorado

Dear Mr. Robbins,

Please be advised that Jackson County does NOT regulate oil and gas activities within the county. Jackson County also does not regulate access roads related to oil and gas activities in Jackson County. Finally, Jackson County does not have a permitting process for the construction of new accesses onto Jackson County Roads.

Therefore, it is not necessary for oil and gas operators to perform any official consultation with Jackson County prior to submitting Applications for Drilling Permits to COGCC or other drilling and/or completion activities.

Please let us know if we can be of any further assistance.

Respectfully Submitted,

Wm. Kent Crowder
Jackson County Administrator
