Alex and Jim,

Here is a brief update on this spill.

Laramie has implemented a clean-up procedure this morning that will include the following;

1. Entrada has been directed to delineate the spill area, gather preliminary soil and water samples for analysis.
2. A roustabout crew is in route with backhoe and dump truck to excavate all the material and dispose of it at the Green Leaf disposal facility outside of DeBeque.
3. Once Entrada feels all the material is excavated below the contaminated level, they will gather confirmation samples at the same points they gathered the preliminary soil samples.

The contractor who spilled the work is conducting an internal investigation on why procedures were not followed. Laramie is actually in disbelief this particular contractor would do anything of this sort in their operations. They are normally very diligent in having containment under all their equipment, so are aware of the sensitive nature of incidents such as this. Laramie can't fathom why they would ignore protocol during rig down.
