

An aerial photograph of an industrial or construction site. The ground is a mix of light brown soil and darker, possibly wet or muddy, patches. A large, irregular area in the lower center is filled with a solid blue color, representing a spill or a specific zone of interest. To the left of this blue area, there is a small, dark, rectangular structure or container. A black arrow points from a white text box labeled 'Mud Can 2.0' to this structure. Above the structure, there is another rectangular area, possibly a tank or a large container, with some internal structure visible. The overall scene is desolate and appears to be a remote location.
