General Comment:

This is a follow up desktop reclamation inspection for inspection document #701900293 and includes both the well pad and the associated tank battery. Further review found that the central and eastern portions of previously reviewed tank battery are owned by a different operator (Noble Energy – Facility ID #440949). The central and eastern portions of the tank battery will be inspected during a future inspection. Due to this discovery, the corrective action associated with document #701900293 is not applicable. This location no longer has a corrective action at this time.

This inspection is in association with AOC Doc #210600090.
