RE: Blackcomb 12-14 NOAV #403261574, Issued 12/15/2022

To Whom It May Concern:

As you are aware, in December of 2022 Polaris Production OpCo, LLC ("Polaris") assumed operatorship of several oil and gas properties in Lincoln County, Colorado formerly operated by D90 Operating, LLC ("D90"). Since that time, Polaris has diligently worked through a backlog of issues with the COGCC on these former D90 properties, including the NOAV #403261574, related to the Blackcomb 12-14 well (the "Blackcomb NOAV"). The purpose of this letter is to present the overall progress of Polaris in resolving these outstanding COGCC issues, and as a result of such progress, respectfully request a mitigated response from the COGCC related to the Blackcomb NOAV.

The Blackcomb NOAV was issued on December 15, 2022, during the time of D90's operatorship. Going-forward, it is the intent of Polaris to stay proactively ahead of issues related to COGCC compliance, and to avoid any deferred compliance matters such as the Blackcomb NOAV. To that end, since assuming operatorship Polaris has resolved the following outstanding matters before the COGCC, all of which resulted under D90's operatorship:

- Form 17 Bradenhead Test, submitted by Polaris 1/10/23, Doc. 403279972
- Form 21 MIT, submitted by Polaris 1/25/23, Doc. 403294848

We hope the COGCC will take this letter and the regulatory progress of Polaris under consideration when responding to the Blackcomb NOAV. If you have any questions or need further information, please don't hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,
