Photo 4. The photo was taken from the well location facing Northeast. The photo illustrates what appears to be the start of where water flows across the facility pad. There is rilling all along this area and the wattle surrounding the equipment is all sedimented in.
