Comment: Rilling was apparent along the working pad surface boundary on the West side into the interim reclaim areas due to the filtrex wattle not being properly installed. Stakes were not driven all the way into the soil below allowing sediment to be pulled through.

See inspection photos for more details.

COGCC Comments

Comment	User	Date
Based on original location drawings the tank battery location pad would exceed surface disturbance minimization amounts, however during the inspection trucks were observed using the large area as a turn around to line up with the tanks on the location and new location drawings were approved by the ECMC for the current layout.  Refer to the inspection photos for details.	hansenl	02/12/2024
