Detailed description of the issue(s) * (?)

Please provide as much detail as possible. It is important to narrow down the issue(s).

Humming and vibrating of fans/oil well nearby is so loud it makes the house move wakes me up at night is ever present during the day and is incredibly stressful to hear. I've had several people stay at my house recently who also heard the sound and felt the vibrations and it woke them up as well. This is something this has been going on for years and it's never been resolved. It's super frustrating because it just never goes away. It has impacted my health in my sleep- vibrating is very loud. Sometimes there is a thumping sound various degrees of pressure when vibrating.
