Comment This location does not comply with Rule 1003. It was observed that the disturbance area has been reduced for areas only need for production operations, however, undesirable vegetation (kochia and russian thistle) was observed throughout the disturbance areas. The southern interim areas do not appear to be progressing towards reclamation standards and regulations with little evidence of desirable perennial vegetation observed. The northern portion appears to have been converted into cropland with poor crop growth observed. Refer to attached inspection photos.

Corrective Action Perform reclamation in accordance with Rule 1003.
