Dear Dick:

After two or three years, we attempt to relocate the culprit operators who have left our fair State, so that we may be able to determine information relative to wells they never finished and for which we were left holding the sack.

By the Grace of God and the cooperation of a few honest oil operators, I was able to dispose of all of your wells which were never finished, with the exception of the No. 1 Frank Svacina.

Will you please advise me, if you can spare a minute, the last situation on this well and who might currently own it?

Very truly yours,

OIL AND GAS CONSERVATION COMMISSION
